

Member of the Executive Board, Managing Director in charge of Economy, Strategy and Finance, RTE, France

Thomas Veyrenc had been senior advisor to the executive board of RTE, the French transmission system operator for electricity, since 2008. He joined RTE in 2006 as market design analyst. Previous experience includes the European Commission (2005-2006, Directorate-General for Energy and Transports). Thomas graduated from Supélec in 2004. He holds a MSc from University College London (2004, with distinctions) and from the French Institute for Political Studies (Sciences-Po Paris, 2006, summa cum laude), majoring in European affairs. Each semester, he gives lectures in energy and economics at Supélec and the French Institute for Political Studies.