

Director General , The Energy and Resources Institute (TERI)

Dr. Vibha Dhawan has been with The Energy and Resources Institute (TERI) since 1985 and served as Vice-Chancellor of TERI School of Advanced Studies from 2005-2007. A Fellow of the National Academy of Sciences, India, she is engaged in research and policy development, working with organizations like the Department of Biotechnology and BIRAC. She also holds an adjunct professorship at Michigan State University.

Her achievements include establishing the Micropropagation Technology Park at TERI and coordinating the DBT-TERI Centre on Advanced Biofuels. Dr. Dhawan has held key advisory roles internationally and has been recognized with multiple awards, including the Indian Women Achievers Sammaan 2017.