

Professor MIT, USA

Paul Joskow is the Elizabeth and James Killian Professor of Economics at MIT and President Emeritus of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation. A faculty member since 1972, he has held leadership roles including head of MIT's Economics Department and director of the MIT Center for Energy and Environmental Policy Research. His research focuses on industrial organization, energy and environmental economics, and competition policy. Joskow is a distinguished fellow of multiple economic societies and has served on numerous corporate and nonprofit boards, including Exelon Corporation and the Whitehead Institute.