

Prof. Edmar de Almeida is a professor at the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro and researcher at PUC-Rio's Energy Institute. Since 1993, he has taught undergraduate, graduate, and MBA courses focused on the energy sector. He also serves as a Non-Executive Board Member at Galp Energia, Portugal.

His research covers industrial organization, energy policy, regulation, and technological innovation. He has advised governments, companies, and investors on energy policy and market development.

Prof. Almeida holds a degree in Economics from the Federal University of Minas Gerais (1992), a Master's in Industrial Economics (1994), and a PhD in Applied Economics from Grenoble University, France (1999). He has authored multiple books and academic papers and frequently speaks at international conferences.