

BIO SYLVIE D'APOTE

Sylvie D'Apote is currently Executive Director for Natural Gas at the Brazilian Institute for Petroleum and Gas (IBP).

Ms. D'Apote has an Economics Degree from "La Sapienza" University Rome, Italy, and a Master's Degree in Energy Technology from Imperial College, London, UK.

She has 30 years of experience as an oil & gas specialist in international and Brazilian consulting firms and as an executive in international organizations, such as the OECD and the IEA.

Prior to joining the IBP in May 2021, Ms. D'Apote was the Managing Partner of the consulting firm PRYSMA E&T Consultores, which she founded in 2013. Prior to that, she was Director for Gas in the Southern Cone for IHS-CERA and Managing Partner of the Brazilian consulting firm Gas Energy.

Before moving to Brazil in 2003, she was the Head of the Latin America Program at the International Energy Agency (IEA), in Paris, and senior economist for WEFA Energy, in London.