

Professor, Boğaziçi University, Istanbul, Turkey

Professor Kumbaroğlu holds a Ph.D. in Industrial Engineering from the Middle East Technical University, Ankara. He has been a visiting researcher at ETH Zurich, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, and several universities worldwide.

He received Turkey's first Energy Oscar for Scientific Contribution to Energy Markets (2011) and the Visiting Professorship Award from the Chinese Academy of Sciences (2012).

An Editorial Board member of multiple journals, he has published extensively on energy and environmental policy. He is the Founding President of EED and President-Elect of IAEE.